Volunteers needed in Ballard/Carlisle counties to assist children in foster care Citizen Foster Care Review Board needs volunteers to help Kentucky's children

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 29, 2005 — The Ballard/Carlisle County Citizen Foster Care Review Board (CFCRB) is seeking volunteers to make a difference in the lives of local foster children. Volunteers are needed to review cases of children placed in foster care because of dependency, abuse and neglect.

"Volunteering with a review board is a great way to contribute to the children in our community," said Danielle Meyer, CFCRB field coordinator.

The Kentucky General Assembly created the Citizen Foster Care Review Boards in 1982 as a way to decrease the time children spend in foster care. CFCRB volunteers review Cabinet for Health and Family Services files to help ensure that foster children receive the necessary services while in out-of-home care and are placed in permanent homes as quickly as possible. Nearly 750 volunteers serve as members of the 141 local review boards across the state. In the last year alone, the boards reviewed the case files of 8,333 children who were removed from their homes and placed into foster care.

All volunteers must complete an eight-hour initial training session, and consent to a criminal record and central registry check. A recommendation is then made to the chief judge of District Court or Family Court for appointment.

The Ballard/Carlisle County CFCRB meets quarterly on the second Monday in April, July, October and January at 11 a.m. at the Protection and Permanency Office in Wickliffe. For more information, contact:
